There are other marketplaces such as amazon.com.au, amazon.com.de, etc. If a person in Australia, for example, uses a URL for the amazon.com marketplace, they may not be directed to their local marketplace (I am not sure what happens in such instances). There is a service that claims to create a single URL which will direct a person in any country to their local marketplace: it is free: <https://booklinker.com/> This is probably a good idea to streamline the process for buyers in any marketplace.
